Considerations for Evidence Gatherers

Where EGs stand can greatly impact how the PSU can deploy. If the long shields are at the front and an advance is called for, move in behind a long shield pair to allow the short shields to easily run past you.

Be prepared to stand behind the rear rank and use the zoom function on your camera if you are receiving particularly heavy missile fire.

EG's must always be aware of their surroundings to ensure they are not separated from the PSU.
